ARUN GANDHI, the fifth grandson of India’s historic leader, Mohandas K. “Mahatma” Gandhi, was born in South Africa, and grew up under the discriminatory apartheid laws there. He was beaten by “white” South Africans for being too black and by “black” South Africans for being too white. So, Arun sought eye-for-an-eye justice. However, he learned from his parents and grandparents that justice does not mean revenge; it means transforming the opponent through love and suffering.
