Céline Cousteau
Thursday, April 26, 2012
Ann & Steve Morgan Auditorium, 10 a.m.

Céline Cousteau seeks to educate and inspire through adventure and visual storytelling. Daughter of ocean explorer and filmmaker Jean-Michel Cousteau and granddaughter of the legendary Jacques Yves Cousteau, Céline Cousteau created “Ocean Inspiration” in 2011 in tribute to her grandfather’s 100th anniversary as a platform to celebrate and recognize ocean advocacy in all forms: from science and art, to dance and filmmaking. As the founder and executive director of the non-profit organization CauseCentric Productions, she collaborates with other non-profits and individuals to increase their worldwide exposure by creating short documentaries about their work. Céline Cousteau believes that we all inherit part of the Cousteau legacy, and that we can all be protectors of this fragile world. An accomplished visual artist, she also uses photography, written word and short documentaries to record the effort of others working in the name of a healthier and more harmonious world.

“Sustainability in the Age of Globalization”